In conclusion, the Pollution free village campaign by NSS Unit of Jibantala Rokeya Mahavidyalaya . The most important harmful effects are prenatal disorders, infant mortality, respiratory disorders, allergy, malignancies, cardiovascular disorders, increase in stress oxidative, endothelial dysfunction, mental disorders besides barren landscape, dirty dwelling, unclean and foul smelling surroundings. Numerous studies have exposed that environmental particulate exposure has been linked to increased risk of morbidity and mortality from many communicable diseases, To get fresh water and fresh air, afforestation is necessary. Approximately 30-40 Peoples form the community participated in this outreach programme.

Name of Village: Paina,

No. of Participants - 30

While everyone believe that urbanization and industrialization have led to increase in waste discharges and energy consumption leading to environment pollution, the villages have not escaped from the tentacles of this dangerous demon. NSS Unit volunteers guide/help people in various aspects of environment issues, like removal of waste, avoid open defecation, planting saplings, nurturing the trees, villagers to segregate bio & non-bio degradable wastes, etc. Public awareness is increased through a lot of activities in the villages. A lot of awareness and assistance to keep the surroundings clean is provided by arranging environment awareness camps and road rallies in the villages.

Six NSS Unit volunteers and No. of Teachers of Jibantala Rokeya Mahavidyalaya and Panchayet member of Sarengabad Panchayet are present and state the awareness to the women and men about Pollution free village. Prof. Amit Kumar Pandit awaring to the people by demonstrate about how to village is pollution free.

The success of the awareness campaign can be attributed to the collective efforts of dedicated volunteers, and all Teaching and Non-Teachings members of the Mahavidyalaya, IQAC Co-ordinator Dr. Shamima Sultana and TIC, Dr. Ramkrishna Mandal . The enthusiastic participation of the local community.
